Insights from Credit Professionals

Argentina

- Is your product deemed priority to pay by their government? Are they completing the necessary paperwork for the regulatory requirements when receiving the goods.
- Expect payment delays. Argentina does not allow payment until 30 days after delivery of product.

India

- India is a very tricky country to do business. They constantly renegotiate pricing all the way to the closing of the transaction.
- We use credit insurance as a risk mitigation strategy. We would also consider utilizing export letters of credit if the customer is willing.

Costa Rica

- Costa Rica is a business-friendly country. It is good to ensure that all business terms are explicit and included in the respective legal documentation.

Italy

- At this time, it will be best to start on payment in advance.
- Know your true legal customer before conducting business.

Insights from Credit Professionals

Non-country-specific Advice from the survey.

- Know your real customer, not the Trade/Banner name but the True Legal Entity (5 C's of Credit).
- Begin early by building a strong relationship with your customer, and be sure to involve your salesperson in the process.
- Consistent communication with your key customers is essential.
- Follow up with the customer's Procurement and Finance Department as many times as necessary.
- Obtain updated credit information. Verify owner(s) and addresses, as changes are often not communicated by the customer. Know all you can about the customer. Pull a credit report for payment history and legal status and name verification.
- With continued global inflation, tariff wars and high interest, you need to know your true legal customer to prevent fraud and keep your A/R secured.
- It is important to know customer's payment process to avoid misunderstandings or delays due to administrative issues.
- Obtain financial statements on your customers and backstop sales with credit insurance.
- Ensure payment language is on the wire payments received.
